Old dock retired; new one planned for public use

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The City of West Sacramento has hired a contractor to dismantle the old dock at Raley's Landing – formerly home to the Elizabeth Louise paddlewheeler and to the now-defunct River Otter Taxi Service. The dock has been disused for several years, and has been deemed a safety hazard.

West Sacramento officials hope to replace the dock with one that will become a "public asset." In that role, it may aid in the city's transportation plan by providing a landing for a future Sacramento River ferry service and could be used by fishermen and sightseers, said City Councilman Mark Johannessen.

"I don't know if we've seen the design yet, but I wouldn't be surprised if there were some type of public access," Johannessen told the News-Ledger.

The dock is located along the River Walk Parkway, just north of the Tower Bridge and behind the "ziggurat" building that now houses state offices. The replacement dock will probably be built in 2013, said a statement on the city's website.

A contractor heads down the ramp to the old dock at Raley's Landing, now being disassembled after being labeled a safety hazard. Pieces of the dock lay at right. "Raley's has been working with the City of West Sacramento to make the waterfront more accessible to the public and expand the River Walk amenities," said Ashley Zepernick, a Raley's corporate spokesperson, in the city's statement. "In doing so, Raley's has agreed to allow the City of West Sacramento to take control of the Raley's Landing dock on the Sacramento River and allow it to be replaced by a new public facility that will be built by the City of West Sacramento."

A state agency has ordered the old floating dock removed, fearing it could break up and float away, causing a river hazard. Work was already underway when a News-Ledger reporter visited this week.

The City has applied to the State Lands Commission for a new dock lease.

Nearby on the river, West Sacramento has been trying to attract financing to build a publicly-owned hotel with banquet and conference facilities. The dock was seen as a complementary amenity for the planned hotel, which Marriott had negotiated to manage. But financing has fallen through. "The hotel project is still percolating – it's not dead," Johannessen told the News-Ledger. "I don't think (the dock and hotel) are dependant on each other. As far as I know, the dock is going to be a public amenity on the river regardless of whether the hotel goes through or not."

"This is one more step toward the City's vision of making the riverfront an accessible and active destination for the public," said Mayor Christopher Cabaldon in the City's public statement.

Demolition work is being done by PBM Construction.

Are you good with a paint brush? Volunteers are needed for Habitat house project

An 84-year old, widowed service veteran in West Sacramento will get some help from Habitat for Humanity's Yolo County chapter.

Habitat will kick off its new "A Brush with Kindness" program by bringing volunteers to the north-city home of Roy Marks, helping with some exterior paint and some new vinyl siding.

Weather permitting, the group plans to work on Jan. 12, 13, 19, 20, 21 and 28.

Volunteers are needed. If you can help, call (530) 668-4301 or email hfhvolo@dcn.org.

The "A Brush With Kindness" helps low-income families and seniors by providing help repairing the exterior of their homes. The project at the home of Roy Marks will be the first of a number of rehab efforts targeting homes in northern West Sacramento.

In recognition of Pearl Harbor Day (December 7), the West Sacramento Historical Society held a short ceremony at the West Sacramento Community Center (1075 West Capitol Avenue, (916) 617-4620) honoring West Sacramento World War II Veterans. Channel 31's "Good Day Sacramento" television program had a live feed of the recognition ceremony and Jim Brewer of the West Sacramento Historical Society interviewed the four Veterans (Ernie Cumbra, Lou Mariani, Chuck Warner and Walter Smith) on behalf of the television station.

The historical society is continuing the theme of "Our Journey" exhibits with "Veterans of West Sacramento," the newest display in the History Gallery at the Community Center. This is an on-going exhibit project thru the end of June 2012 and illustrates the journey of another significant population in the history of West Sacramento. Not only does it honor those WWII veterans from Broderick, Bryte and West Sacramento, it also honors those veterans that later moved to the community. If you have names, photographs or memorabilia to share, please fill out the form near the display and send it to the West Sacramento Historical Society-WWII Project, P.O. Box 1202, West Sacramento, CA 95691 or call (916) 374-1849. The exhibit is free.

Let emergency authorities call your cell phone in the event of a flood or disaster

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

If you have a telephone landline in West Sacramento, you're probably already in the city's "Reverse 911" program. It's part of a regional system that lets authorities reach you with a recorded message in case of a major emergency.

But those of you with cell phones can register those numbers with the system as well.

"The Reverse 911 system is intended to be used for large scale phone calling in the event of a disaster like a flood, fire or so forth," said Sergeant Nathan Steele of the West Sacramento Police Department. "Generally speaking, most land lines in the city have been entered."

The system can target neighborhoods, and has been used to warn residents of a fleeing felon on the loose nearby, or to get the word out when an "at risk" person has gone missing. It could also be used to help get the word out if an evacuation is needed, automatically dialing homeowners in an affected area.

You can match your cell phone number to your address for the system by going online to www.westsacpd.org. Click on the "Reverse 911" tab at the lower left and follow the prompts.

Lou Macias, founder of family business

Note: Lou Macias, the founder and longtime owner of West Sacramento's Crest Jewelers, passed away this past week. He was a remarkable man who through dedication and hard work created one of West Sacramento's most highly-esteemed family businesses, which is still going strong after 45 years. He was also a wonderful husband and father and the following article, which I wrote way back in the 1990's, is reprinted below in Lou's memory.

Luis "Lou" Macias grew up in Tucumcari, New Mexico, and that is where his wife, Adelina, met him.

"Luis was different from all the other boys," recalled Adelina. "He had ambition and drive and he didn't mind hard work. I knew right away that he would make something of his life. Plus it didn't hurt that he was also very good looking."

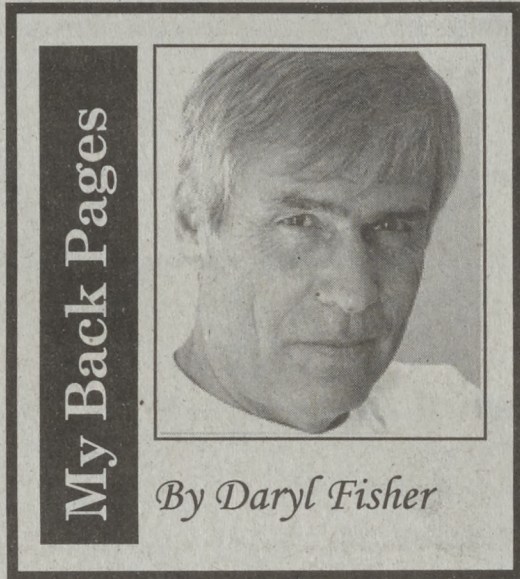

While he was going to school, Luis worked as a projectionist in the local movie theater. "That was a great job," remembered Luis, "but I knew there wasn't much of a future in it, so a few years after I got out of school I went to work with three of my uncles in the cement finishing business. The work was a lot harder than sitting around in a movie house, but I got to travel a lot and I ended up really loving that job, too."

Always on the lookout for a new challenge, in 1957 Luis moved to Sacramento and decided to give the jewelry business a try.

"I worked as an apprentice for ten years at Werner Wholesale Jewelers on 15th and I streets in downtown Sacramento," explained Luis, "and I learned mostly by watching and doing. The hours were long, but the work was always interesting, and I picked up things pretty fast. To be a good jeweler you have to stay up with all the new ways of doing your job. Things are always changing and you have to really enjoy those kinds of challenges if you want to succeed in any business, especially the jewelry business."

In 1957 Luis decided to open up his own jewelry business on Merkley Avenue in West Sacramento.

"We decided to call it Crest Jewelers," said Luis, "and if I had known how hard it was going to be in the beginning, I might have had second thoughts. We weren't able to purchase a lot of product at first and we had a shoe-string budget, but with the help of a wonderful jeweler named Eli Kitade, who went out of his way to help me as much as he possibly could, the business kept slowly growing and before long we were doing very well."

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

While Luis was working 15 to 18 hours a day, Adelina was at home taking care of their six growing children.

"West Sacramento turned out to be a great place to raise the children," said Adelina. "The schools were very good and there were always lots of young people for my children to play with. I really enjoyed staying at home with the children. That was where I was needed and it was a joy to be with them."

Luis is now semi-retired and Crest Jewelers, which is now located at 1296 West Capitol Avenue in the Safeway Shopping Center, is in the competent hands of two of Luis's sons, Steven and Chris.

"I learned the jewelry business pretty much the same way my father did," said Steven, "by watching and doing. When I was very young, I always enjoyed being at the jewelry store and I still do. Although we continue to serve people who have shopped here for decades, we also get new customers every single day and it's fun to be part of a family business that has been going strong for over 30 years."

In addition to creating their own custom-made jewelry, Crest Jewelers also does watch and ring repair and just about everything else one might expect to find in a jewelry store many times its size.

Longtime West Sacramentan Barbara Moore said, "I went to school with Steve Macias and my family has been shopping at Crest Jewelers for as long as I can remember. The diamond in my wedding ring is from Crest, and not only do they always do excellent work, but when I walk in the door, they want to know everything that's been going on with me and my family. They really care about their customers and that's pretty rare these days. I love shopping at Crest Jewelers!"

Verna Ellis, whose late husband, Marvin, owned and operated Schirmer's Jewelers in West Sacramento in the late 1960s and early 1970s said, "Marvin used to always say that Lou Macias was one of the best watchmakers in the whole state, and certainly the best he had ever seen. He said Lou wasn't just a mechanic, but a real artist at what he did. Plus his entire family is so friendly and helpful and West Sacramento is so lucky to have such a fine jewelry store."

"We've always been very proud of the work we do here," said Luis. "It took more guts than brains to get it started, but God has been very good to me and my family."

Low-income health program expands

Health care coverage will be available to thousands of additional low-income residents in Solano and Yolo Counties next year, reports State Senator Lois Wolk.

Through its Path2Health program, the County Medical Services Program (CMSP) will expand its no-cost medical coverage to an additional 30,000 uninsured, low-income adults in 34 participating counties, Solano County among them, beginning January 1 of next year. Starting July of 2012, the expanded coverage will also be available in Yolo County, which was accepted into the program this week.

The expanded coverage increases the number of low-income adults served by the program to nearly 90,000 statewide by the end of 2013. In Solano County, where 6,953 are currently served by the program, an additional 1,603 people will be provided coverage. In Yolo County, which currently provides coverage to approximately 1,600 low-income residents through its Indigent Health Program, an additional 1,600 residents will be able to receive coverage starting in July, when the county begins participating in the Path2Health program.

The additional coverage was made possible by the state-federal Bridge to Reform, through which participating counties receive a 50 percent match in federal funding to support early implementation of federal health care reform.

To qualify for the expanded coverage, an individual must be a resident of the 34 participating counties, have an income of up to 100 percent of the federal poverty level ($10,890 annually for a single person, with higher thresholds for couples and families) and be between the ages of 19 and 64.

On Dec. 20, the River City High School boys basketball teams faced Dixon Rams.

Dixon pretty much controlled the freshman and varsity games, while the JV game was tighter. In the junior varsity match, River City was down, and came back to take the lead with just a few seconds left. Dixon answered at the buzzer to win the game.

Final scores for the Dixon victories were: Freshman 65-36; JV 44-45; varsity 71-60. The Raider varsity is now 5-5 overall.

River City's teams will be back home again on January 13 when they will face Union Mine.

River City girls basketball takes its 11-1 record into the Lincoln Tournament today. The squad plays at home next on Jan. 6, hosting Galt with a varsity game time of 7:30 p.m. at the RCHS gym.

'THE HEART OF THE CITY'

Champions all!

I hope your holiday season was a happy and joyous one.

Youth sports in our community continue to be an enormous success and a source of community pride.

The Washington Unified School District girls Volleyball and boys flag football seasons came to an exciting conclusion. Flag football was played at River City High School, under the lights in the football stadium. Final score: Southport 20, Riverbank 14.

Don't look away this is a lightning-fast game, and if you blink, you risk missing a great play or touchdown.

Quarterback Khari Reiche threw three touchdown passes and Oscar Kee caught the winning TD pass with 16 seconds left in the game. Southport finished with a record of 6-1. Cody Martin and Daniel Thweatt were recognized by Coach Matt Ainsworth for outstanding play on defense.

Girls volleyball had a great season concluding in an almost-packed house at the River City gym. Bridgeway Island defeated Westmore Oaks in two games, 25-18 and 25-12.

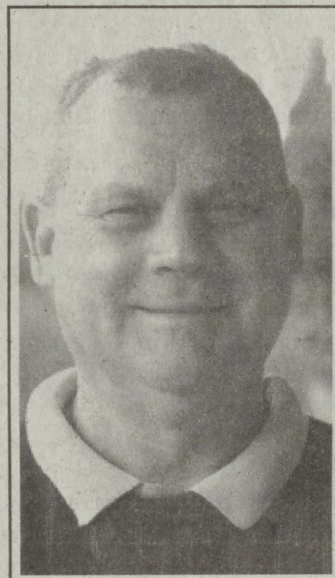

Real volleyball, with classic bump, set and spike moves are on their way. Finally, we'll have some Northern California High School teams beat the So Cal teams in the state finals and it starts here with youth programs like this.

Taylor Jacke and Jordan Criswell had great games and Michaela Faaif had an unstoppable jump serve. Bridgeway only miscued on five serves during the entire two games. That was definitely the winning difference in the games.

Girls basketball has started for WUSD as their successful after-school sports program continues.

On the soccer "pitch":

West Sacramento Soccer conducts and participates in District Cup tournaments at the end of each season, followed by District Cup championship games.

This soccer district is enormous, stretching from Rocklin to Placerville to Elk Grove and Woodland, and involves teams in all age groups willing to participate in the District Cup and test their skills and abilities against their age groups top teams. It's not a journey for the timid or weak at heart!

The District Cup starts out with a three-game tournament played in one weekend. Then the winner of that tournament plays the winner of a similar tournament being held at the same time in the Cup Final a week later. This year the Cup finals were played in West Sacramento at Bryte Park and on a synthetic turf field Bartholomew Sports Complex in El Grove.

Congratulations to the Under 19 girls team coached by Sam Montoya. The local soccer squad defeated Clarksburg in Elk Grove, 2-1, to win the District cup.

An ecstatic Coach Sam Montoya was quoted: "We started the year practicing five days a week and it ended in a District Championship. It was all worth it and that's what it takes to win."

Xandrea Montoya hit a free kick at a severe left angle ten yards out late in the second half to win the game. Goalie Jessica Trussel was outstanding, only giving up the one goal.

The Under 12 girls team Arsenal made it all the way to the District Cup Championship Game in Elk Grove with an undefeated season, but fell 1-0 to North Natomas.

Vanessa Hensley and Julie Lara played outstanding games. Arsenal had a Local 'tot lot,' other projects funded

First 5 Yolo on December 14 awarded $40,000 in mini-grants to organizations supporting children age 0 to 5 in local communities.

"We received 26 requests for more than $111,775 in funding," said Yolo County Supervisor and First 5 Yolo Chair, Don Saylor, in a First 5 Yolo press release. "Each proposal demonstrated a serious need in our communities. Since we couldn't fund everything, we prioritized the proposals based on the greatest positive long-term impact for Yolo county children and families."

First 5 Yolo awarded funds to 12 projects for a total of $40,000. Each organization received full or partial funding of their request up to $5,000 per project.

The largest amount of money, $17,610, will be used to finance programs that help prepare young children to be ready to learn when they enter kindergarten, said the organization. Successful proposals include programs by Sutter Davis Pediatrics Reach out and Read Program, Yolo County Library Celebration Dia de los Ninos/Libros, Woodland Library Books for Babies, First Steps Infant Program Carolina Curriculum Training, and the Northern California Children's Therapy Center ommunication/Collaboration Project.

Five organizations were granted a total of $12,740 to improve the social and emotional health for young children, including the Yolo County Multi-Disciplinary Interview Center for a conference to increase foundational knowledge of child abuse, early child development and interviewing the very young. In addition, the Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence Center was funded for a program on protecting and raising children; the Yolo Family Service Agency's Partnership for Early

Access was funded; EMQ Families First received funds for staff training on the effects of drug exposure on children; and the Yolo Wayfarer Center was funded to increase staff capacity for providing skilled interventions to help reduce the distress children experience when their families are facing homelessness.

Programs funded to improve the physical health of young children include a preschool hearing screening program by the Hearing Loss Association, Woodland Chapter; and the City of West Sacramento Parks and Community Services for a Tot-lot Playground in Westfield Village. These programs received a total of $9,650.

great season representing the Under 12's and were undefeated in the season and Cup until the finals.

The under-14 Hooligans, coached by Dale Calles, dropped a heart-breaker in the third game of their tournament to North Natomas, losing 1-0. They did so completely dominating the game in every aspect - and having tied North Sacramento 2-2 and defeated Roseville 2-0 in previous tournament games.

Games were played at Kokomo Park in Natomas. Julianna Calles, Cara Talbott and Steffanie Jimenez played great games for West Sacramento in their first Under 14 age group District Cup.

Thanks to all the West Sacramento Soccer volunteers and the City of West Sacramento for conducting the tournament at Bryte Park. "Tis' the season" also for a sport of a different kind.

Led by President Jason Williams, in its "Trots for Tots," The West Sacramento Trail Riders - all 20 strong including horses - delivered over $300 of toys to the West Sacramento Fire Department for kids in the community. All riders converged at Davis Road and the Clarksburg Trail and rode as a group with decorated-for-the-season horses up the trail to the fire station.

WSTRA has a pony club and lots of room for youth members if interested. Look for the group on Facebook.

Safely get rid of those paints, pesticides & other 'hazardous' materials around your home and garage

The Yolo County Planning & Public Works, Division of Integrated Waste Management holds weekly collection of household hazardous waste (HHW) at the Yolo County Central Landfill (44090 County Road 28H), and will continue to be open during the holidays to better serve the residents of Yolo County. The HHW facility is open every Friday and Saturday, 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. including December 23, 24, 30 and 31. The landfill will observe the Christmas holiday on December 25 and New Year's Day on January 1.

The landfill also accepts hazardous waste from businesses in Yolo County that have products which are corrosive, reactive, toxic or ignitable. Businesses in the areas of construction, printing, equipment or vehicle maintenance, furniture refinishing and farms/ranches that create hazardous waste are encouraged to utilize this program. Business hazardous waste is accepted by appointment only and there is a fee for disposal. For more information about this program or to schedule an appointment, call (866) 714-8470.

Materials that will be accepted from the public and businesses include: batteries; fluorescent bulbs or tubes; used motor oil

Landfill also offers 'reuse' program - giving away free household supplies turned in by other Yolo residents and filters; cleaning supplies; lighter fluid; antifreeze; aerosols; garden pesticides and herbicides; latex or oil based paints; solvents; poisons; electrical switches/relays; pilot light sensors; mercury thermostats and containerized syringes.

Yolo County also provides a reuse program which is open to the public during the same hours as the HHW collection program. The reuse program makes household cleaning supplies, lawn, garden and automotive products, and household paint available to residents at no charge. Often, products are dropped off at the HHW facility simply because they are no longer needed. These products have original labels and are nearly full.

HHW events are sponsored by the Yolo County Department of Planning & Public Works, Division of Integrated Waste Management. For more information on proper disposal of HHW, call (530) 666-8856 or visit: www.yolocounty.org.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento river registered 7 feet 6 inches U. S. gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday.

Service stations for automobiles are moving along in a speedy way at this side of the river just like they moved along in Sacramento a year or two ago. Fraser and Doyle expected to open their service station at Fifth and Harriet streets fully two weeks ago, but owing to the great pressure of business at the manufacturing plant they have been unable to secure their service house until yesterday. Today the house is being erected and all modern appliances are being installed to cater to a wide trade in this locality. The Fraser and Doyle plant will be modern in every respect.

Near Rose Orchard Station on the Sacramento Northern Railway a service station is being equipped by J. Frates but is of a modest character, just simply a supply station for motorists in that locality. Frates will also carry a stock of general merchandise for farmers up the river who may be caught short in their household supplies.

The crossings over the Southern Pacific track at Fifth and Sixth street on Ann have been fixed up in a first-class manner with concrete bases and a level roadway for vehicle traffic. Although the Independent promised that the crossings would be closed for only a half a day there was some delay that caused both those crossings to be closed for six or seven days last past. Both crossings are now opened for traffic and will be appreciated by travellers in this locality.

A supply of dynamite was unearthed last Wednesday in the yards of the Valley Construction Co. at Fifth and Ann streets, but after some investigation, it was found that the material was owned by the corporation. The only mistake the Valley Construction Co. made was in leaving the dynamite exposed. A county ordinance provides that stored dynamite must be placed three feet underground and a sufficient distance away from public thoroughfares so that concussions of any kind may not set it off. The company promises to look after the dynamite after having been warned by Constable Buckingham.

The Washington Star club had a big blow out last Wednesday night at the Westminster Presbyterian church and tentatively made arrangements for a dance to be held in the town hall on April 6 to help along the treasury of the organization. At the blow out last Wednesday evening there was a plentiful supply of hot dogs, hot beans coffee and cake.

A Mexican surprised Judge Barry last Tuesday when he announced his name as Mike O'Hara after having been accused of robbery perpetrated on William Slon. The robbery was perpetrated in West Sacramento from a tent and Mike O'Hara was accused of stealing a sack filled with apples, a pair of old shoes and a can of tomatoes. Just on account of the reflection of his own people Judge Barry was just as severe as he could be and sentenced the Mexican to thirty days in jail. The judge doesn't stand for any insinuations on the Celtic race.

otherwise known as "Swift" was sentenced by Judge Barry to thirty days in the County Jail last Wednesday for stealing an umbrella from the home of took a sentence of thirty days at the hands of Judge Barry.

A big baseball game, a regular out and out game, a money game is going to be played at Riverbank next Sunday between Muchy Mathena's Slammers and the Washington Hopefuls. The Hopefuls won the game played two weeks ago and the Slammers are coming back to do the best they have for the game next Sunday. It appears that there is a job put up on the Slammers for the two umpires, Braun and Barry have been consulting as to what decision they must render even before the game has started. At any rate a great crowd is expected at the ball grounds in Riverbank next Sunday afternoon and Muchy Mathena has been offering all kinds of odds on the betting end of the program.

A poor drug derelict giving the name of May Dunlap was taken from a houseboat last Wednesday by Constable Buckingham and his deputy Ira Davis. She was suffering from many bruises and in addition was suffering from over indulgence in some drug. She had wandered across the bridge from Sacramento, where she had been ordered out of town and was glad to even find a home in a houseboat, where she might lay her head. Poor wretch, she welcomed the sentence passed on her by Judge Barry of thirty days in the County Jail in an effort to rid herself of the terrible habit she contracted after she was deprived of her glass of beer by prohibition.

The boys around Washington are bringing in a few salmon during the past few days, but so far the supply has been so slow that only those who have spare time go out after the finny residents of the turbid stream. Those who know the game are inclined to feel that within the next week good catches will be made provided the weather continues in its favorable condition that now prevails. No shadow of bass has yet been caught.

Steve Staunton, who spent a few days of the past week at the Leinberger home, returned to his residence in San Francisco last Wednesday evening.

Last Monday Supervisor Leinberger entertained all the members of the Board of Supervisors at his home where a splendid feast was prepared

CLOSING OF STREETS ASKED BY BERTAGNA AND ALBERICCI

A petition is before the board of supervisors of Yolo county asking that several streets in Washington be closed in order that the land owned by F. Bertagna and E. Albericci may be redivided.

Notice of the petition is being published in a Woodland paper.

Before next issue of the Independent a thorough investigation will be made and full particulars in relation thereto will be published.

A public hearing before the board is scheduled for April 2nd at 2 p.m.

SCHOOL BONDS DEFEATED IN SACRAMENTO RIVER DISTRICT

At the election held in the Sacramento River School district last Saturday afternoon March 10th, the $15,000 bond issue was defeated by a vote of thirty-nine to twenty-one. It required a two-thirds vote to carry the election.

Every voter of the district cast a ballot on this occasion—sixty-three in all and of these forty-two voted yes in favor of the bonds while twenty-one voted against them.

Unfortunately three voters, too eager to carry the bonds disqualified their ballots by first stamping them with a cross and then writing yes.

By the election board these three ballots were thrown out, thus defeating the bond issue, temporarily.

The trustees of the district, J. S. Bryan, M. M. Teixeira and Mrs. G. Sillano have announced their purpose to call another election as soon as possible on this question for they feel that the defeat of the bonds was brought about only by a fluke. Over anxiety on the part of three voters was the only cause of the defeat of the bonds.

Proponents of the bond issue are somewhat sore because the issue was defeated especially because the condition of the present school building is far from being representative of the district or accommodating for the pupils.

The regular school election will take place on the afternoon of Friday, March 30th. Mrs. Sillano is the retiring trustee and is a candidate to succeed herself which she will likely do, for no other candidate has announced herself in opposition to her.

Forty thousand dollars is being asked for six acres of land in Sacramento.

by Mr. Leinberger's sister, Mrs. Smith. It wasn't all eats that the invited guests participated in. The occasion that drew the supervisors was the convention of the Supervisors' Association of the State, at Sacramento. One other guest was present to fill a chair, Gus Goldberg of Sacramento, who is a close friend of Supervisor Leinberger.

Mrs. Alice DePrato is recovering gradually from a severe spell of influenza complicated with bronchial pneumonia. Yesterday she was able to be around her home, but is still suffering.

The Saturday evening dance at the town hall for tomorrow promises to be one of the best that has been given this season, although several previous dances were thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended. A special feature has been added in the shape of an accordion player, Mary Barber. Mary Barber is late of the Orpheum circuit having made a national reputation by her playing on the accordion. Four other pieces will augment the playing of Miss Barber and a great crowd is expected to the dance on Saturday night. The decision has been reached that the dances will be continued on Saturday nights because of the splendid way in which they have been conducted.

Mrs. Mattie Starkey and granddaughter, Joy Painter came up from Oakland, and during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Painter for a year's stay in New York, will make their home at the Painter home.

Mrs. Ofa Conrad and daughter, Claire, have returned to St. Helena after a visit in Washington. Mrs. A. Martinelli, who accompanied them to Washington, is now visiting in Sacramento.

Ray Peck, part-time school instructor in the Southern Pacific shops, is in Los Angeles to attend a conference of trade school teachers.

Word has been received of the death in Bishop, Inyo county of Mrs. Alice Dixon, niece of Mrs. J. McNevin of Washington and Charles McKay of Oakland.

Lawrence Spelcher has gone to Susanville for the lumber season.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. George Clifford enjoyed a picnic Sunday in the American River canyon.

Eighteen sheep belonging to F. L. White, Jr., were killed this week by an animal which attacked them at night.

Mrs. Frank De Riso has returned from Oakland, where she was with her sister, Mrs. Leo Brash, who is ill with influenza.

Mrs. Carrie Harms and Mrs. May Barber went to Oakland to spend the week end.

PARENT-TEACHERS EXPECT CROWD AT SHAMROCK DANCE

Tonight at the Town Hall the Parent-Teachers' Association expects a large crowd when their annual entertainment and dance will take place to provide funds for the girls' portion of the public school grounds.

Nearly all the children of the public school will have a part in the entertainment in the way of folk dancing, songs or recitations. The children have been thoroughly drilled in their parts and a most enjoyable time is anticipated.

Some side booths will be conducted by the mothers of the children in the way of providing refreshments for those who will attend. A special feature of the affair is a clown's dance promoted by the pupils of several grades.

Committee for the dance have been named as follows: Floor managers, Mrs. F. De Riso, Mrs. J. R. Williams, Mrs. M. Conzetti, Mrs. William Crane, E. Moss, E. Curry, Thomas Robinson, and J. N. Bennett; doorkeepers, I. K. Manchester and A. A. Dassonville; candy, Mrs. O. P. Cook; "hot dogs," Mrs. H. A. Palm and Mrs. E. Reynolds; lemonade, Mrs. B. Parkinson and Mrs. Clyde Crenshaw.

CLIFTON PLACED ON PROBATION FOR FOUR YEARS

R. W. Clifton will escape a term in the state prison by the payment of $900 to Mrs. Luella Curry and Mrs. Jack Elliott, who charge him with having knocked them down with his automobile and driving away without waiting to render aid. Clifton pleaded guilty when he appeared before Judge C. P. Vicini, of Amador County, in a session of the Sacramento court.

Probation Officer C. H. Wilson made the recommendation adopted by the court.

Clifton is to be placed on a four year probation period, and will be required to pay the sum of $900 to cover injuries and damages sustained.

LEE LIBERATED WHEN SISTO REFUSES TO PROSECUTE

Woodland, Mar. 10.—Reuben Lee, employee of the Sacramento Transportation company, held in the county jail here since a week ago last Friday on a charge of attempted murder, when he shot James Sisto, a young man boarding and lodging at his home in Riverbank, this county, was released at the instance of District Attorney

ELECTION FOR FIRE COMMISSIONERS PROMISES TO BE TAME

The ladies of Washington are getting the fever. They are about to take part in the election for fire commissioners on April the 2nd, and it has been announced that three ladies are going to be candidates for the vacant positions.

Three mentioned are Mrs. J. McNevin, Mrs. Ed. Esycheck and Mrs. H. Davis.

Whether there is any real truth in the report, the Independent has not been able to verify. Suffice it to say that Walter Leinberger announced himself as out of the race because of much out of town business. J. S. Lear will be out of town all summer and Sid Rickard does not want to run again.

Perhaps these men are afraid of the election or perhaps they are under the impression that the ladies would beat them at the polls.

Between now and election day some lively politics will be doing in and around Washington.

LEINBERGER RECOVERING AFTER SEVERE INJURY TO LEG

Eight weeks ago Supervisor Leinberger while walking along the sidewalk in Sacramento with Sheriff Monroe turned his ankle in a very slight manner and failing to notice that he had done himself any injury he continued on the business at hand without even a remark.

Next morning his leg began to pain, immediately below the knee and on that evening was forced to call a physician because of a severe injury.

The physician found that a ligament had been stripped from the inside of the knee and would likely confine him to his home for several weeks.

Under painful conditions he continued to attend to his usual duties but after several days of this kind of work he was forced to take to his bed where he remained for several days.

During the past two weeks he has been using crutches to help along the injured member, but is now nearly cured from the trouble.

BRYTE MASS MEETING
Bryte, Mar. 15.—A mass meeting to discuss the question of incorporating the town of Bryte will be held next Monday evening at the school. The meeting has been called by President A. Childers of the Bryte Improvement Club.

George T. Kern, who found it impossible to prosecute.

Kern had a talk yesterday with Sisto, who became a patient at the county hospital here after Lee had sent a bullet through his face, entering one cheek and emerging through the other. Sisto, now recovered at about to leave the hospital, stated that he was to blame for the early morning rumour, and that he would not prosecute Lee. Hence there was little else to do than turn the prisoner loose. Lee returned to his wife and family in Riverbank.

Hell will be a relief for some men. The henpecked husband will welcome the day he gets there.

REPUBLIC TRUCKS

Consider the construction, first investment, fuel consumption and upkeep when choosing your truck. Then consider whether the truck is backed by a reliable firm, determined to give you "truck satisfaction."

Can you get parts readily and, if necessary, have repairs made immediately? All these should be important factors when purchasing a truck.

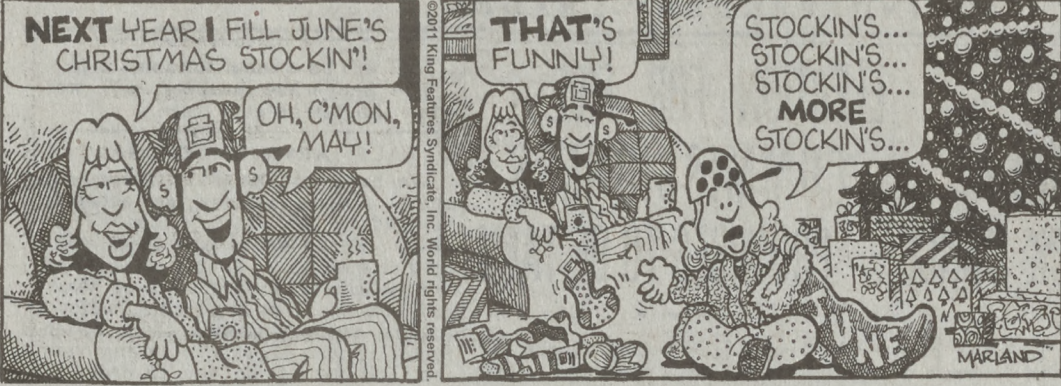

In no truck can you find better units—Fedders Armored Radiator, Continental Red Seal Motor, Fuller Transmission, Spicer Joints, Torbenson Internal Gear Rear Axle.

May we demonstrate it?

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"The Guard" (R) -- In the small, stony grey part of Ireland, a murder becomes the single thread that could unravel a big wool sweater of crime. It's the kind of oddball setup and sinister conspiracy that can be tackled only by a mismatched duo from contrasting worlds: a doughy, sardonic small-town Irish cop (Brendan Gleeson) and a straight-laced, authoritative FBI agent (Don Cheadle.)

The two proven actors handle the lowered-brow comedy like a brain surgeon handles a game of Operation. Gleeson's quips and character-acting carry the comedy well and precipitate chemistry with Cheadle's straight man. "The Guard" shows that the buddy-cop comedy is still good for a laugh, provided moviemakers are handy with the right setting, script and talented performers who can have fun with it.

"Contagion" (PG-13) -- This fast-paced, broad-scoped and paranoia-inducing disaster flick follows a deadly plague and its effects on human life as we know it -- while ending a lot of it. Gweneth Paltrow picks up a new super-bug in Hong Kong, then spreads it all over the place on her way back home to her Matt Damon husband. A star-lined cast adds gravitas to the lives of the various folks feeling the impact of the epidemic, including Marion Cotillard, Laurence Fishburne, Kate Winslet and Jude Law.

Directed by Steven Soderbergh, the story ably shifts focus from wide-angle to up close and intimate. The film really shines with its examinations of the many points of contact we have with each other in everyday life. When shaking the wrong hand or eating the wrong bar nut could end your life, people try to adapt to a new, sterile way of life.

"I Am" -- Director Shadyac made his millions directing Jim Carey in movies like "Ace Ventura" and "Bruce Almighty." After an accident left him with a long, painful recovery to think about life, he decided to put together a small crew and talk to experts about what's wrong with the world and how to fix it. Some segments are shallow and saccharine-sweet, but the majority are charmingly optimistic and at least a little thought-provoking.

DOG OF THE WEEK

"I Don't Know How She

Does It" (PG-13) Sarah Jessica Parker reprises her favorite role as a grating, self-martyring career woman. Except in this movie, career women are borderline sociopaths, and stay-at-home moms are piranhas waiting to gnaw away at mothers who work uptown. Parker plays Kate, a working mom who has it all in her glittering upper-middle-class life, which is just so gosh-darn hard.

Poking fun at the quirky challenges of everyday life is a valid premise for a story, but this movie's world is charmless and polished clean. Parker is downright annoying as everyone else looks straight into the camera and heaps praise on her for working so hard to send emails and throw elaborate parties.

New Year, New You!

Many people invest time and energy in losing weight after the holidays. If you're one of them, the most important thing to remember is to adopt healthy habits that last. Glenda Kinder, nutrition and health education specialist with University of Missouri Extension, suggests working on habits that result in both health benefits and weight loss. Weight-loss-only diets don't work because they focus on avoiding forbidden foods, not on enjoying delicious, nutritious foods.

When making diet changes, keep it simple. Focus on making different choices and examine the types of food you typically eat. Instead of highly processed foods made from white flour, look for ways to eat more whole-grain foods. It's never been easier to find a tasty, whole-grain product in breads, cereals, crackers and other grain foods.

One of the best ways to satisfy your appetite is to eat a lean, healthy protein at each meal. Healthy proteins like chicken or turkey breast, fish, lean red meat, whey protein and nonfat dairy can help you stay on your diet plan. For some meals, choose a vegetable protein like nuts, beans, tofu or edamame. In general, a protein serving should not be more than the size and thickness of the palm of your hand. Proteins take longer for your body to digest, so you feel full longer. A meal high in protein and plant foods can prevent cravings for up to four hours.

Another practice for a healthy diet is to eat two colors at every meal. This means eating two or more servings of plants -- the fresher and more colorful the better -- morning, noon and night. Although juice is a healthy choice, it's best to limit the amount consumed to no more than 3/4 cup a day. You're better off eating the whole fruit -- it's more satisfying and provides more fiber. There's nothing like fresh produce for improving health and achieving weight loss. Vegetables are more important than fruits, so try to have at least one vegetable at each meal.

If you follow these simple guidelines and incorporate great recipes like my Chicken and Apples with Lemon Balsamic Sauce, you can control hunger, and you'll give your body the disease-fighting nutrients it needs.

CHICKEN AND APPLES WITH LEMON BALSAMIC SAUCE

Chicken breast meat is a healthy but rather bland source of protein. Pairing lean chicken with apples and spinach in this flavorful lemon balsamic sauce showcases each ingredient and provides you with a lean protein, fruit and a vegetable in one dish.

4 chicken breast halves with the skin but no bone (about

1 1/4 pounds)
1 1/2 tablespoons poultry seasoning
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
Cooking-oil spray
1/4 cup balsamic vinegar
2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
1 teaspoon lemon zest
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 cup canned reduced-sodium chicken broth or chicken stock
1/2 teaspoon agave syrup
1 large Jonagold or Mutsu apple (8 ounces), cut in half, cored and sliced thinly
1 (16 ounce) bag triple-washed baby spinach
1 tablespoon whipped butter

1. Season chicken on both sides with 1 tablespoon poultry seasoning, salt and pepper.
2. Spray a large skillet with the cooking-oil spray and heat on high until hot; reduce heat to medium-high and add the chicken breasts, skin side down. Saute for 6 minutes or until the skin is nicely browned. Transfer with tongs or a slotted spoon to a plate and cover loosely with aluminum foil.

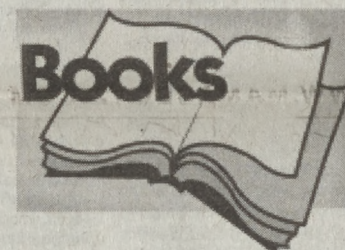

3. Turn the heat to high. Mix the remaining 1/2 tablespoon of poultry seasoning, vinegar, lemon juice and zest, garlic, broth and syrup in skillet until well-blended. Bring sauce to a boil.

4. Turn heat to low and add butter, stirring until it melts. Add apples and half the bag of spinach and stir. Simmer for 6 minutes and add remaining spinach. Simmer another 3 minutes, until the apples soften and the sauce reduces slightly.
5. Add chicken, skin side up, to the pan, along with any juices from the chicken plate. Cook 12 to 14 minutes over medium heat, or until chicken is just cooked through. Transfer chicken to each of 4 plates and top each serving with some of the sauce. Serve with whole-wheat pasta, couscous or brown rice. Serves 4.

"Dangerous Ambition, Rebecca West and Dorothy Thompson: New Women in Search of Love and Power" by Susan Hertog (Ballantine Books, $30)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

Rebecca West and Dorothy Thompson were two of the most talented writers of the 20th century, self-made women who came of age between the wars and fought to create a balance between convention and the opportunities of the postwar global world. Drawn to men who also were ambitious and hungry for love, the relationships they had with their husbands and lovers would, in the end, be sacrificed for the sake of their work.

Cicely Fairfield was born in London in 1892. As a young woman, she took the nom de plume of Rebecca West, the iconoclastic feminist character in Ibsen's play "Rommersholm." She fell in and out of bed with H.G. Wells and even gave birth to their illegitimate son,

Or take it to the county landfill for free drop-off, Monday-Saturday, 6:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. or Sunday 9-5 (call 530-666-8729 for info).

Anthony Panther West. During an era when speaking the truth could get a woman blacklisted or worse, she was outspoken and fiercely independent. For example, she once observed that there was no reason for the existence of the male sex except that one sometimes needs help moving a piano. She received acclaim as a book critic, author and correspondent. Her coverage of the Nuremberg Trials for The New Yorker following World War II received international acclaim. Dorothy Thompson was born in 1893 in Lancaster,

N.Y., and she, too, was determined to be a journalist. After arriving in London in 1921, she met West and later married Sinclair Lewis after divorcing her first husband. Thompson was one of the first foreign journalists to interview Hitler, and her reporting of fascism so outraged him that in 1934 she was expelled from Germany by the Nazis. Susan Hertog, a New York-based freelance journalist and photographer, is the first author to link the two women and document the indelible impact that both had on our culture and the profession of journalism.
